Homeland Security is important to Broward County and its residents

The threat of terrorism is very real in Broward County. Broward County is home to 1.6 million people, and there are several vulnerable targets for terrorists seeking to do us harm.

Port Everglades is the nation's 12th largest container port and home to 19 cruise lines. It contains a large petroleum tank farm that is the sole provider for 12 South Florida Counties. Broward County is also home to Ft. Lauderdale/Hollywood International Airport—with growing passenger travel.

Unfortunately, despite the obvious risks we face here in Broward County, we are not receiving the federal funds we need to protect our communities.

Clay Shaw is fighting for our fair share of anti-terror funds

Currently, the city of Miami is responsible for distributing Homeland Security funds to our region—including Broward County.

$30 million in anti-terror funds were sent to South Florida, but Miami only provided Broward County with $2.9 million of these funds—less than 10%. This is unfair and unacceptable.

Congressman Shaw has called on Homeland Security Secretary Tom Ridge to designate Broward and Palm Beach Counties a separate area from Miami for anti-terror funding. This allows America to better protect vulnerable parts of Broward County.

Congressman Shaw will continue to work to secure our fair share of Homeland Security funding to protect our families.
